- At 1 and 1/4 inch wide (30mm) the T109B from Gold Glass Group is a unique and useful moulding to have around. Often it can be difficult to make such a wide moulding since such large mouldings tend not to hold their shape. The T109B was possible because it was made out of rubber, which has great memory and will therefore hold its shape.

- The uses for the T109B can be rather interesting. The most popular use by far has been on the 1980 to 1995 Chevy vans. It can be used in lieu of the OEM two part mouldings that can be expensive and difficult to use. People also will use it on many older cars that originally were installed with chrome mouldings. These applications take some creativity, but when the old mouldings are not useable, the T109B is a great alternative.
